WVU Student Employment Handbook

Title 133 Procedural Rule of the Higher Education Policy Commission Series 8, Personal Administration Section 2.1.5 defines a Student Employee as: an employee enrolled at the institution as a student and whose primary purpose for being at the institution is to obtain an education. A student employee is not eligible for benefits and is not covered by the classification of the program.

Many students work as a component of their educational financing strategy, and students who work fewer than 15-20 hours a week often report higher GPAs than those who do not work at all. However, the U.S. Department of Education previously reported that full-time work was negatively associated with persistence and attainment and among undergraduates who initially enrolled full time, the more hours they worked, the more likely they were to drop to less than full-time enrollment or to stop attending.

West Virginia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Institution. The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, age, disability, veteran status, religion, sexual orientation, color, or national origin in the administration of any of its educational programs, activities, or with respect to admission or employment. Faculty, staff, students, and applicants are protected from retaliation for filing complaints or assisting in an investigation under the University's Equal Opportunity Policy/Affirmative Action Plan. Inquiries regarding the University's non-discrimination statement may be directed to the Division of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at West Virginia University.

Federal Work Study

Introduction to Work Study

Thank you for your participation in the Federal Work-Study Program (FWS) at West Virginia University. As a FWS supervisor, you are an integral part of the FWS Program. In many instances, you will serve as a student's first contact with the working world. You can help the student gain valuable skills, which will be useful in their future employment. You are also helping them earn needed funds for their college expenses.

This guide is designed to make you aware of the policies and procedures of the FWS Program as well as the benefits to you, your department and students you employ. Additionally, since both federal regulations and University policy govern the FWS Program, you are encouraged to familiarize yourself with the information in this guide. Lastly, in order to remain informed of any recent changes/updates regarding the FWS program; make sure that you keep in contact with the FWS coordinator throughout the year. All of us in the Student Employment look forward to your commitment to the FWS program. We will do our best to ensure that the program remains mutually beneficial to you and to the student(s) you employ.

What is Federal Work Study?

Federal Work-Study, also referred to as FWS, is one of the major federal student financial aid programs authorized under Title IV of the Higher Education Act. It is designed to provide part-time employment to students who have established financial need according to federal guidelines. The federal government pays a percentage of the student's salary; the University or off-campus employer pays the remainder. The primary goal of the Federal Work-Study Program is to provide students with the opportunity to gain work experience and offset some of their educational costs.

The work a student performs must be in the public interest either on-campus or off-campus with non-profit organizations. Job responsibilities must not promote religious doctrine or involve political lobbying, and the student may not replace or fill a permanent staff position. FWS jobs range from basic services to highly technical lab or computer positions. Many students seek a position related to their career objective. Others seek positions that offer skill development. In either case, the FWS Program is intended to provide a balance between the interests of the student and the needs of the department or agency.

Who is eligible for Work-Study?

Federal Work-Study (FWS) is awarded according to the standard financial aid application and statutory need analysis procedure. In order to be eligible for a FWS award/ funds, a student must:

- Be determined eligible and be awarded FWS allocation by the Financial Aid
 - Students must complete the application process by filing a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and meet the March 1st priority filing deadline.
 - Recipients must reapply for the FAFSA each year.
- Be regularly admitted to WVU
- Be a U.S. citizen, U.S. National, or Permanent U.S. Resident
- Be enrolled in at least 6 credits for each semester he/she is employed
- Maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) as determined by the number of credits attempted and completed, GPA standards and degree progression. Contact the Financial Aid if you need more detailed information about the SAP policy.
- Not owe a repayment to any Title IV grant program nor be in default on any Title IV loans received at any school.

Community Partner/Community Service Contracts

Community Partner/Community Service employers must sign a contract with the Student Employment to employ Federal Work-Study students. Contracts must be renewed annually.

Required Matching Costs

The required matches by the department or agency are:

On Campus and Community Partner academic year

Department pays 0% - FWS program pays 100% of earned wages

Full-time Summer FWS On-Campus and Community Partner/Community Service

Agency pays 10% - FWS program pays 90% of earned wages

The Student Employment reserves the right to waive the required match fee.

Steps to hire FWS students

1. Submit an online FWS Request Form available at

<https://urwvu.wufoo.com/forms/federal-work-study-request-form/>

- A separate FWS Request Form should be submitted for each different type of position within your department/agency. If you are hiring more than one student for the same position, only one form is necessary.
- The duties listed on the form should describe the position, not the individual to be employed.
- The Student Employment will review the FWS Request Form and enter the position information in MountaineerTRAK. A position number will automatically be assigned to your position.

2. Interview and select prospective FWS employees.

Students apply for open positions through MountaineerTRAK accessible through the Student Employment website. If a student applies for your position you will receive a “Non-OCR Resume Submitted” email. Sample:

May 03, 2017, 8:51 PM

Greetings,

_____ has submitted a resume for you to review. This resume has been attached and is for the position of 7486 Peer Mentor/Office Assistant - Student Financial Support and Services.

Thanks!

The following information will be attached to the e-mail:

- Student's resume
- Work availability or class schedule
- Any other information you required for your position

Once you have reviewed the job referral email, you can:

- Contact student to set up an in personal interview
- Contact student to conduct a phone interview
- Hire directly from the information contained within job referral email

3. Selection Process

Students may apply for more than one position. Students will be placed in the first position that Student Employment is notified. Therefore, it is important to review the job referral emails and select desired employees in a timely manner. If you wish to select a student, complete the FWS Selection Form on line at <https://urwvu.wufoo.com/forms/fws-selection-form/>

Student Employment will review your selection and make sure that no other department/agency has already hired the student. If no other department/agency has hired the student, the supervisor, EBO contact and the student will be sent a "Confirmation of New Hire" email.

Dear Student,

You recently applied for a Federal Work Study position through MountaineerTRAK for the 2016-2017 academic year.

You have been hired as a _____ with the _____ under _____. Please contact him/her at _____, at your earliest convenience to finalize your schedule.

You were awarded $2,500.00 of Federal Work Study funding. You will be permitted to work at $8.75/hour up to 20 hours per week, until you've exhausted your award. When you get close to your funding limit you will receive a notification through your MIX email.

If you have not already processed for Payroll, please do so as soon as possible. Payroll processing can be completed at the following times and locations:

Every Monday: 1:00 – 3:00 p.m. on the 2nd Floor of Barnes and Noble at Evansdale Crossing

Every Wednesday: 8:30 – 9:30 a.m. in the John Jones Conference Center (Health Science Center)

Every other Wednesday: 1:00 – 3:00 p.m. in the Mountainlair (Kanawha or Blackwater Room)

Every Thursday: 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. on the 2nd Floor of Barnes and Noble at Evansdale Crossing

Monday-Friday 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. in the Payroll Office on the 3rd Floor of One Waterfront Place

Please check Payroll's Web site for the most up to date processing locations. <http://payroll.wvu.edu/employee-processing-locations>

You must be processed for payroll before you may begin working. Another e-mail will follow with your start date. Do not begin to work until after that date or the first day of classes, whichever is later.

You will need to bring original documents with you to establish identity and employment eligibility as well as a Blank Check or Direct Deposit Form from your Bank in order to complete Payroll Processing. More information about Payroll Processing and what to bring with you can be found on our Website at studentemployment.wvu.edu

If you have any questions concerning this process, contact the Mountaineer Hub at (304) 293-1988.

Student Employment

4. Process for Payroll

Once you receive the “Confirmation of New Hire” email, the supervisor must confirm the student has been processed for payroll prior to the student working. Even if a student previously worked for your department/agency, you are responsible for reviewing the payroll information for accuracy with your EBO contact. If a student works before the date he/she is authorized to work, your department/agency is responsible for any earned wages. For more information on the payroll process including payroll processing remote locations and times go to <http://studentemployment.wvu.edu/payroll-processing>

At no time should a student be placed on FWS funding unless the “Confirmation of New Hire” email has been received. The department/agency will be required to pay any earnings for student who was placed on FWS funding who otherwise was not eligible for FWS.

FWS students are paid according to the WVU pay cycles (bi-monthly). For a complete listing of pay dates go to http://benefits.hr.wvu.edu/pay_schedule. FWS students are also paid in arrears. Therefore, generally they will not receive their first paycheck until after working at least one month.

5. Introduce the student to the workplace.

Your FWS student may arrive in your office with little or no work experience. It will benefit both you and the student to take the time to introduce the student to the workplace.

- Describe the goals and activities of your department.
- Discuss the student's duties and responsibilities and how he or she is expected to interact with other members of the department.
- Explain that payment will be rendered will be for actual hours worked and he/she will not be paid for studying or completing classwork.
- Outline your expectations of the student's work. Agree on a specific work schedule and on procedures for reporting absences or delays.
- Assign a work station and show the student where to find work materials and where to secure personal belongings.

Monitoring Students' Earnings/Hours Worked and FWS Revisions

Permissible Work Hours

FWS students awarded during the academic year or those employed as a part-time Summer FWS may work up to 20 hours a week while classes are in session or up to 37.5 hours per week when classes are not in session. FWS students are not permitted to work during University holidays or anytime the University is closed. Full-time Summer FWS students can work up to 37.5 hours per week.

One Federal Work Study Assignment Rule

FWS students may be employed in only one FWS position at any given time. Students may choose to change FWS positions. However, in general, they are discouraged from making more than one FWS position change during the academic year. The Student Employment may limit the number of position changes for a student.

Exceeding Award amounts

Federal Work-Study policies include a provision that student workers cannot earn in excess of their academic year award.

It is both the student and employer's responsibility to maintain a cumulative record of the student's gross earnings. FWS students must stop working once they have earned their full allotment. Any earnings above the student's FWS allocation will result in a charge to the employing department/agency for the earnings beyond the student's FWS award.

The Student Employment will send "warning" notice to the student's supervisor when his/her earnings reach a certain threshold (within $500 of awarded amount). The student and supervisor should carefully review how many hours the student has left to earn and plan accordingly.

Financial Aid Award/ FWS Revisions

A student's FWS award may be revised at any time during the academic year to compensate for other types of aid such as Pell Grant, state grant, or outside scholarships or fellowships. The Financial Aid will issue a revised award notification to the student and send a notice to his/her supervisor regarding the change. If the FWS award is revised, both the maximum earnings and number of hours worked per week will be affected. Therefore, the student's ability to work and/or remaining hours must be re-evaluated by the supervisor.

Merit Salary Increases/ Reclassification

Salary/ hourly rate

FWS students are initially attracted to a position by its complexity, level of responsibility, and skills a position can offer. Also, the salary or hourly rate can attract the most qualified student to your position. Currently, on campus positions are paid $8.75/hr and campus partner/community service are paid $9.75/hr.

Increases

Work-Study students may be considered for a merit salary increase. The employing department must complete a Pay Rate Increase Form <https://urwvu.wufoo.com/forms/fws-payrate-increase-request/> and submit it to the Student Employment for review. If approved, the hiring supervisor and EBO will receive a confirmation email from the Office of Student Employment. It is the supervisor's responsibility to notify the student.

You recently submitted a Pay Rate Increase Form for (student). The Pay Rate of (new Pay Rate) has been approved/denied as of (date).

Please submit to your EBO for final approval, and notify the student when the Pay Rate has been changed.

If you have any questions, contact the Student Employment at 304-293-1988.

Disciplinary Problems/Termination

A student may be disciplined for various reasons.

If there is a disciplinary problem with a student employee, the discipline can range from an oral admonition, written warning (with terms and conditions of continued employment), to termination. It is highly recommended for supervisors to document any issues as they arise.

If you cannot resolve an apparent problem with the student, notify the Student Employment.

A student's employment may be terminated for several reasons. A student:

- Must be terminated when the full FWS award allocation is earned. Remember, if the student continues to work after the full FWS award allocation has been reached the department/agency will be charged for the overage;
- May be terminated at the student's request;
- May be terminated when the student's performance is unacceptable based on an objective assessment.
- If the FWS student was terminated for unsatisfactory performance, the student should confer with the Federal Work Study Coordinator. The student may be provided a referral to another position at the discretion of the Office of Student Employment.
- FWS students may be employed in only one position at any given time. Students may choose to change positions. However, in general, they are discouraged from making more than one position change during the academic year. The Student Employment may limit the number of position changes for a student.

With the exception of the student working the full FWS award allocation, if termination is requested either by the student or supervisor, the Release Form (<https://urwvu.wufoo.com/forms/federal-work-study-release-form/>) must be completed.

If a student is recording time fraudulently, the student will immediately be terminated and be referred to the Office of Student Conduct who will render appropriate disciplinary action.

Employment Policies

Working Hours

A student may work up to 20 hours per week each semester and up to 37.5 hours per week during winter break, spring break, and summer.

For example, Marie is working at a pay rate of $8.75 per hour and her FWS award is $2100 for the year ($1050 each semester). Her employer would like her to work the same number of hours each week throughout the semester. Therefore, if she works 8 hours every week, she will earn approximately $1120.00 each semester.

$$$8.75/\text{hour} \times 8 \text{ hours/week} \times 16 \text{ weeks/semester} = $1,120.00$$

It's been a known practice that supervisors have limited the number of hours a student may work. It is highly recommended that supervisors permit students to work as many hours as they choose, taking into consideration the work demands of the department/agency. Should your work study reach their allocation, you may request another work study for the remainder of the term.\

Absences

A student employee must notify the supervisor no later than the beginning of the scheduled work period when unable to work. In the case of an extended absence, the anticipated duration should be reported to the supervisor as soon as possible. The supervisor is responsible for authorizing all absences; however, FWS supervisors are urged to consider that the academic demands of the student should take priority.

Injuries

Every student employee is covered during working hours by Worker's Compensation for work-related injury/illness. It is imperative that the employee immediately report any job-related accident or illness to his/her supervisor. If a student employee is injured while on the job, the student and supervisor should contact WVU Human Resources at 304-293-5700. All injuries, no matter how trivial, should be reported immediately. Questions regarding Worker's Compensation should be directed to WVU Human Resources.

Breaks

A student working a consecutive four-hour period is entitled to a 15-minute break with pay. A student working a six to eight-hour period is entitled to two 15-minute breaks with pay and no less than a 30-minute lunch break without pay. Paid breaks may not be taken at the beginning or end of the work period and are not cumulative. The breaks should be taken when they will not place an undue burden on the department/agency.

Employee Benefits

Student employees are not eligible to receive other employment benefits such as paid holidays, vacation, or sick leave, retirement benefits, unemployment insurance, or permanent status.

Supervisor Best Practices

Below are best practice examples for communicating with FWS students and monitoring FWS student earnings.

Recording Time

Do not permit FWS students to enter FWS for other FWS students

It highly recommended that you keep a sign in sheet as a back up to MyTime records.

Confidentiality

Some FWS students may have access to confidential records. In those cases, the students should be informed/trained on FERPA, HIPAA and any other WVU privacy policies. The student should also sign a confidentiality statement.

Spring Notification Email

Johnny:

If you are plan to continue working for the Financial Aid for the spring term, provide a work schedule by the end of the second week of classes. It can always be adjusted later if needed. When setting your schedule remember the following:

- You cannot work more than 20 hours a week.
- If you are working 6 consecutive hours or more for a day, you must clock out for a half an hour lunch.
- The work schedule must be during regular office hours; between 8:15 to 4:45, Monday through Friday.

If you will not continue working in the Financial Aid, please let me know. You and I will have complete additional paperwork to get you released from the Financial Aid.

*Thank you,
Mary Supervisor*

Financial Aid Work Study Agreement

Name: _____

Student ID: _____

As a part of the Financial Aid, Federal Work Study employees are required to do basic office and clerical tasks as a part of the job. Tasks include the following:

- Scanning and indexing of paperwork
- Shredding paperwork
- Stuffing envelopes for student mailings
- Special projects
- Outreach and events

There are some rules for Federal Work Study employees. The guidelines are as follows:

- Federal Work Study employees cannot work more than 37.5 hours per week.
- Students are to use the computers on the second or third floor to clock in and out. Do not use laptops, cell phones or the time clock.
- If a Work Study employee works six hours or more on any given day, he or she must clock out for a required lunch break of at least 1/2 hour.
- If you are scheduled to work but unable to come in, you must notify your supervisor prior to your shift. You can notify by phone or email.
- If you are taking multiple days off for vacation, you must notify your supervisor a week in advance.
- Employees are welcome to take a quick break or leave to get food or drinks to bring back to the office. However, if the student is leaving the office for an extended period of time – more than 15 minutes – then he or she is required to clock out for that shift.
- Employees are welcome to listen to music – with headphones or ear buds – while working in the office. However, you cannot watch videos, log into social media, etc. while working at a computer. Computers are for work purposes only.
- Sleeping on the clock is not allowed. It is grounds for immediate termination.
- A copy of the Office Dress Code is given to each student worker.
- Please do not bring friends into your work area.
- All documentation and information is confidential. Anything you hear in the office is also considered confidential. Violation of student confidentiality is a violation of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and can result in prosecution under criminal codes.

I have read the guidelines listed above for being employed as a Federal Work Study in the Financial Aid. I understand that violation of these regulations could result in a verbal warning, a written warning, and/or release from the Federal Work Study Program.

With regard to graduate assistants, this handbook only applies to the additional 100 hours per semester of an on campus student worker job.

Students with Partial Graduate Assistantships may be simultaneously employed in one WVU hourly student worker position for up to 10 hours per week

WVU Payroll Information

Processing

Immediately after a student receives a job offer the student must process for payroll before their start date may be set by the supervisor. Students cannot start working before processing is complete. Your hiring supervisor will know if you have completed processing and when you can start work.

For more information on the payroll process, original documents needed to establish identity and employment eligibility, including payroll processing remote locations and times go to <http://studentemployment.wvu.edu/payroll-processing>

Payment and Recording Time

Students Employees will be paid every other Friday. Payment is in the form of checks deposited directly into the students' bank account. Students are also paid 2 weeks in arrears. Therefore, generally they will not receive their first paycheck until after working at least one month. The university is required by law to make deductions from paychecks for federal and state income taxes, and Social Security.

To track time worked student workers will use a time clock near their workplace and swipe using their Mountaineer ID badge or log into MyAccess. The department supervisor will instruct the student worker as to what method is preferred. If the student worker is working off site and neither a time clock nor the Web is available, the student worker will complete an official paper time sheet. Notify your supervisor if you believe there is a problem with your paycheck.

For more information on MyTime and MyAccess go to the website at <https://portal.wvu.edu/>

Failure to log in appropriately or the falsification of time records can result in disciplinary action up to and including termination and repayment of funds for time not worked.

Notify your supervisor immediately in writing of any errors with clocking in and out.

Clocking In and Out via My Access

To punch in and out of any on campus job or internship via computer, you must go to portal.wvu.edu. Your credentials are just your masterID and your current password. For example, if your email is asmith92@mix.wvu.edu, your username is asmith92 and your password is the one you are currently using. After you have successfully logged in, you will now be taken to the home screen. To clock in, click the link that says "Web Clock." When you are starting your shift, click on the green "in" button and when clocking out click the red "out" button.

Checking Your Time Card

To check your current time, click on the "time card" link on the home screen. Select your role, which is most likely employee and this will bring you to your time card. From there you can choose the pay period you want to see your totals for and you can either choose the time card details or time card pay view.

Viewing Your W-2 and E-Paystubs

To view your electronic pay stubs or your W-2, visit <http://www.wvsao.gov/login.aspx>. If you do not have an account with this site, you will have to set one up. After you have created an account, it will take you to the myApps tab. From there you will see different links to your electronic paystubs as well as W-2s. Choose which one you want to look at then select the date you want to view.

Viewing WVU Pay Days

To see when you will be getting paid, navigate to <http://benefits.hr.wvu.edu/> and on the right hand side, click the link that says Pay Day Schedule. Sign in with your masterID and password and click on the proper pay day schedule that pertains to you. It would be beneficial to print out this sheet so you don't have to continue navigating to the site to figure out when you get paid.

Retirement Savings Plan

A 403(b) Tax Deferred Retirement Savings Plan is available to employees, including those employees not otherwise entitled to benefits. Should a student employee wish to enroll, an "Enrollment Form" for my selected vendor, either TIAA-CREF or Great West, is required. In addition a "Non-Benefit Eligible Salary Reduction Agreement," where I indicate the amount to be contributed each pay, is required. Both forms are available on the Human Resources website at www.hr.wvu.edu. If a student does not have access to a computer he/she is responsible for informing the department or the Division of Human Resources so that a solution may be determined.

Under age 18

Students that are under age 18 may work on campus but they are required to have additional documents completed at the Division of Human Resources, Employment Services. The hiring supervisor will initiate these forms.

Permissible Work Hours and Breaks

Student Employees and Work Study Employees: Fall and Spring

The University has determined that students working in on-campus student employment positions (i.e. student worker, student residence hall assistant, student assistant or work study) shall be limited to no more than an average of 20 hours worked per week, during the fall and spring semesters.

Student Employees and Work Study Employees: Winter Session

The University has determined that students enrolled in the WVU Winter Session must adhere to the 20 hour a week policy: Students working in a campus student employment position (i.e.

student worker, student residence hall assistant, student assistant or work study) shall be limited to no more than an average of 20 hours worked per week. Students not enrolled in Winter Sessions class may work 37.5 hours a week when classes are not session and the University is open.

Student Employees and Work Study Employees: Summer

If a student is enrolled half time or less (3 credits or less for graduate students, 6 credits or less for undergraduate students) during the summer term and working in an on-campus student employment position, that student may work full time (40 hours per week). If a student is working more than 20 hours per week, business officers and hiring supervisors must provide the “Student Worker Tax Withholding Guidelines” as working these increased hours has tax implications which differ from part-time employment.

If a student is enrolled more than half-time, they shall be limited to no more than an average of 20 hours per week for on-campus student employment positions.

Federal Work Study students may not work during University holidays or emergency closures (i.e. serious weather related closures).

Students who have an F-1 or J-1 Visa (most of our international students) cannot work for more than 20 hours a week (or 40 hours during breaks and holidays), or they will put their visa status in jeopardy and risk deportation. These students must work on campus.

This paragraph applies only to the International Students and is based only on the Immigration rules. These are the rules that the International Students need to follow to be in compliance from an Immigration stand point. It does not apply to US citizens nor does it address University policy or procedure concerning student employment in general. From an Immigration point of view, the summer term is considered a period of break in which the student can work up to 40 hours per week, regardless of enrollment, without violating their VISA status. However, if University policy limits a student (whether a US citizen or International) from working full time if they are enrolled, then the University policy would apply equally to all students.

During the course of a workday of six or more hours, your supervisor is required to allow you to take at least a 20-minute meal break. This provision shall be required in all situations where you are not afforded necessary breaks and/or permitted to eat lunch while working. Additional rules regarding meal breaks, including applicable compensation standards, can be found in WVU-BOG Policy 50—Meal Breaks. You must log out on MyAccess when you leave for lunch then log back in when you return to work. A meal break may not be taken at the end of a shift.

If the employee is under the age of 18, the supervisor shall require a meal break after five hours of continuous work. The meal break must be at least 30 minutes long.

You may be granted a rest period not to exceed ten minutes during each 4-hour shift of work. Rest periods are granted at the discretion of your supervisor. You may be required to work through your rest period, due to operational needs. Since a rest period is compensable time, you will not receive additional compensation if you are required to work through your rest period.

Last Day of Employment

The last day of student worker employment during a semester is the last day of finals.

The last day of student worker employment for a graduating senior is the last day of finals in the last semester. Student worker employee cannot continue through the summer after graduation. A FWS student's assignment will end when they have exhausted their full Federal Work Study allocation.

Dual Jobs

When a student holds more than one job at a time, the total hours worked cannot exceed 20 hours per week when taking classes and cannot exceed 37.5 hours per week during breaks and summer.

Workplace Standards

Attendance/Timeliness

Your role as a student worker is important to the successful operation of the University. Therefore, you are expected to arrive and be ready to start work at the time you are assigned by your supervisor. Attendance is very important. If you have to leave work earlier than the assigned time, it must be cleared with your supervisor in advance.

Procedures for Reporting Absences

Notification of an absence, prior to a worker's scheduled start time, is of the utmost importance. If, for any reason, an employee is unable to report to work as scheduled, the employee must notify their supervisor prior to their scheduled start time with their reason and expected duration of the absence. Failure to notify an immediate supervisor concerning an absence can result in discipline to the employee, including termination. It is the obligation of the employee to make certain that the immediate supervisor or designee is notified of an absence prior to the employee's scheduled start time.

Supervisors have the right to enact and enforce a more detailed policy for particular departments.

Drug Free Workplace

All employees of West Virginia University, including faculty classified and non-classified staff, administrators, and student employees, must comply with the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 (Public Law 100-690 Title V, Subtitle D, 41 U.S.C. 701 et. Seq.).

Prohibitions

The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited in the workplace. Reporting to work under the influence of a controlled substance is prohibited.

Notice to Employees

As a condition of University employment, every employee must abide by the terms of this policy and notify their supervisor and the Division of Human Resources of any conviction on drug or alcohol related charges resulting from any activity occurring in the workplace or otherwise on University premises no later than five days after such conviction.

Disciplinary Sanctions

Any employee found in violation of this provision shall be subject to disciplinary action, including dismissal.

For More Information

For more information, go to the WVU Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Booklet available on the WELLWVU website at well.wvu.edu

Background Checks

Background checks may be required by various on-campus departments prior to final employment.

Other certifications

Other job certifications and trainings may be required specifically for your job. They may include (but are not limited to): Food Handling, Cash Handling, Lifeguard, First Aid, CPR, HIPPA, and FERPA.

Employee Rights and Responsibilities

Employees are required to behave in a civil, professional manner, to treat others with respect; to comply with state and federal laws and regulations related to individual rights, business operations and procedures, health and safety, conflict of interest, and to comply with University regulations, rules, and policies and procedures. Employees are entitled to be treated with respect and dignity (by supervisors and other employees).

Injuries

Every student employee is covered during working hours by Worker's Compensation for work-related injury/illness. It is imperative that the employee immediately report any job-related accident or illness to his/her supervisor. If a student employee is injured while on the job, the student and supervisor should contact WVU Human Resources at 304-293-5700. If the student does not seek medical treatment they cannot do a Worker's Compensation claim. All injuries, no matter how trivial, should be reported immediately. Questions regarding Worker's Compensation should be directed to WVU Human Resources.

-Unauthorized copying or unauthorized use of computer software.

The WVU campus e-mail system are services provided to faculty, staff, and students for official University business only; it is not to be used for personal gain, political, religious or special interest purposes.

Schedule/duties

If you are employed by an office, it is especially important for you to learn the general office procedures and to become an expert in your specific assignment.

Once you are hired, it is your responsibility to perform well on assignments and tasks that you are assigned according to the schedule given to you by your supervisor. Do not expect to study while you are scheduled for work, unless you are allowed to do so by your supervisor.

Tobacco Policy

Tobacco or other similar products is prohibited on the Morgantown campus of West Virginia University. Smoking is also prohibited in any motor vehicle owned, leased, or otherwise operated by West Virginia University. Tobacco use is prohibited on the Health Sciences Campus.

Students can utilize tobacco cessation programs through WELLWVU at well.wvu.edu

Visitors and Phone Use

You should inform friends and relatives that during the hours you are scheduled to work you cannot have social visitors. Unofficial phone use should be strictly limited to necessary use and emergency use only. Personal calls should be limited to break time.

Personal Appearance

Your supervisor has the authority to require specific personal appearance regulations to dress, beards, hair, and personal hygiene. You are expected to present a neat and clean appearance all times while scheduled to work.

Personal Conduct

As a student worker of WVU, you represent the institution. You are expected to always treat fellow students, faculty, staff, and visitors in a respectful and professional manner.

Use of University Vehicles

Student employees required to operate a University vehicle must possess a valid driver's license, have a good driving record, and must be authorized by the immediate supervisor and take the state driver's training.

Work Ethics and Confidentiality Information

While at work, you may learn confidential information about business, other students, parents of students, or other university personnel. This information is strictly confidential and should not be discussed with others. Your supervisor may ask you to sign a confidentiality agreement.

Sexual Harassment Policy Commitment

West Virginia University is committed to providing its faculty, staff, and students with a work and educational environment free from all forms of sexual harassment. Therefore, sexual harassment, in any manner of form, is a violation of University policy and expressly prohibited. All Faculty, students, and staff of the University are expected to acquaint themselves with this policy. Located here: <http://diversity.wvu.edu/ea/policies>

Complaint Procedures

Any applicant for employment, current, or former employee or student (herein referred to as complainant) at WVU may file a discrimination complaint with the Division of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at West Virginia University at (304) 293-5496. For more information, go to <http://diversity.wvu.edu/ea/file-a-complaint>

Workplace Violence

West Virginia University is committed to preventing workplace violence and maintaining a safe work environment. In order to provide a safe and healthful work environment for its employees, customers, students and visitors the University expects employees to follow rules of conduct that will protect the interests and safety of all employees and the university.

Solicitation

Solicitation and the selling of products or articles on University property, owned or leased, are prohibited; except, by organizations and groups directly affiliated with and recognized by West Virginia University, and authorized by written approval of the institution's president/designee.

University Property

University programs, personnel, time, titles, and property, including equipment, systems, vehicles, information, supplies, and office space, are to be used in conducting authorized business of the University. Use of such for personal benefit or gain may be grounds for disciplinary action.

Employees are responsible for securing the University building, office, room, equipment, and other keys assigned to them for work related reasons. When employment ends, students are expected to return any keys they may have been issued.

Reporting Child Abuse or Neglect

The purpose of WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY BOARD OF GOVERNORS, POLICY 49 is to protect children under the age of 18 on WVU's premise or involved in University sponsored programs at all geographic locations by providing guidance on reporting requirements for child abuse and neglect. "Child abuse or neglect" means physical injury, mental or emotional injury, sexual abuse, sexual exploitation, sale or attempted sale or negligent treatment or maltreatment of a child by a parent, guardian or custodian who is responsible for the child's welfare, or other person in a position of trust in relation to a child under his or her care, custody or control, under circumstances which harm or threaten the health and welfare of the child. "Sexual abuse" means a child who is less than sixteen years of age, any of the following acts which a parent, guardian or custodian or other person in a position of trust in relation to a child under his or her care, custody or control, shall engage in, attempt to engage in or knowingly procure another person to engage in, with such child, notwithstanding the fact that the child may have willingly participated in such conduct or the fact that the child may have suffered no apparent physical injury or mental or emotional injury as a result of such conduct: (i) sexual intercourse; or (ii) sexual contact; any conduct whereby a parent, guardian or custodian or other person in a position of trust in relation to a child under his or her care, custody or control, displays his or her sex organs to a child, or procures another person to display his or her sex organs to a child, for the purpose of gratifying the sexual desire of the parent, guardian or custodian, of the person making such display, or of the child, or for the purpose of affronting or alarming the child. Immediate action should be taken in order to protect children present on the WVU campus or participating in programs that may be connected with the University. Importantly, under West Virginia law, an individual that reports an incident of child abuse or neglect in good faith is immune from civil or criminal liability.

Reporting Child Abuse or Neglect

If any member of the University community observes or has reasonable cause to suspect any type of child abuse or neglect, including physical or sexual abuse, he or she must immediately report the circumstances to the Title IX Coordinator in the Division of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion at 304-293-5600. In cases involving a mandatory reporter, as described in Section 3.2, the University community should be aware that such individuals are required by law to report in accordance with W. Va. Code §§ 49-6A-1 to -11 (2013) and the BOG Policy 49: Section 3.2 available at diversity.wvu.edu/ea/policies/policy-49.

Progressive Discipline

Progressive discipline is a process for dealing with job-related behavior that does not meet expected and communicated performance standards. The primary purpose for progressive discipline is to assist the employee to understand that a performance problem or opportunity for improvement exists. The process features increasingly formal efforts to provide feedback to the employee so he or she can correct the problem.

The goal of progressive discipline is to improve employee performance. The process of progressive discipline is not intended as a punishment for an employee, but to assist the employee to overcome performance problems and satisfy job expectations. Progressive discipline is most successful when it assists an individual to become an effectively performing member of the organization.

A student may be disciplined for various reasons.

If there is a disciplinary problem with a student employee, the discipline can range from an oral admonition, written warning (with terms and conditions of continued employment), to termination.

If a supervisor cannot resolve an apparent problem with the student, they will notify the Student Employment.

Terminations/Separations/ End of FWS Allocation

If at any time, you decide to discontinue working, you are expected to notify your supervisor two weeks in advance in writing. An employee is expected to work throughout the two week notice, unless waived by the immediate supervisor.

A FWS student's assignment will end when they have utilized their full Federal Work Study allocation. Remember, if the student continues to work after the full FWS award allocation has been reached the department/agency will be charged for the overage;

With the exception of the student working the full FWS award allocation, if termination is requested either by the student or supervisor, the Release Form (<https://urwvu.wufoo.com/forms/federal-work-study-release-form/>) must be completed.

Employment Termination

Grounds for termination include excessive tardiness, inappropriate behavior, sleeping, absenteeism, or failure to perform assigned duties and tasks. If a student is recording time fraudulently, the student will immediately be terminated and be referred to the Office of Student Conduct who will render appropriate disciplinary action.
